AVG RATE CHANGE

What is the threshold for when the balance or goal or rate of usage is too low?

Usage by type: Food. Snack. Supplies.

Encourage students to meet a weekly goal in order for them to use their I-Bucks allotment well throughout the semester, but don't punish them if they're outside the goal. The goal simply resets every week, reflecting the average usage from then to the end of the semester.

Purchased $500.00 of food with 200 I-Bucks.
Saved $300.00 so far by using Standard Crimson meal plan (60% discount).

Meal plans are listed per academic year, but charges are per semester. Are i-Bucks credited only upon semesterly payment?

Do all IU campus meal plans run on separate systems? IUB I-Bucks. IUPUI Jag/Flex. SE UCard.

How are summer semester meal plans handled?

How is eMEAL integrated into the plans?

How do IUB students attempt to budget I-Bucks? Per day, week, semester, academic year?

Do students want digital receipts? A breakdown of all I-Buck purchases?

How are over-purchases handled? Denied? Automatic bursar charge?

LABEL? Balance. Remaining. Available.

Should students be knowledgable about how much their meal plan saves them?

Can you have multiple meal plans? Cream I-Bucks + IMU U-Bucks?

Do students care about charting the rate of I-Bucks usage?

Proximity relative to what? Right now as reflected in today's schedule?

Is 18/18 Apples (100%) more available than 28/30 Apples (93%)?

If Apple is my only explicit PLATFORM filter, then should only Apple availability be considered?

How do you find a room/building's hours outside of just today?

Notes

What is considered a notification read?
- Content hover.
- Content click.
- Content scroll.
- Content shown.

How do you know if the user has looked at the updates?

Should confirmation of submission ever be a notification?

Notification: New/modified assignment, grade, message, resource.

Should there be an explicit acknowledgement of an update?

An assignment due should be much more emphasized than an assignment submitted.
